Overview of processing activities

We may process your personal data as part of the following processing activities (IS):

Control of entry to the building - authorized persons - if we have allowed you regular entry to our premises, we can check the legitimacy of your entry, and record your entry and the entry of cars based on legitimate interest.

Camera system - if you operate within our monitored premises, which are marked with a camera sign at the entrance, you will be recorded on a camera recording, the purpose of which is to maintain safety (including crime detection), protect life, health, property and financial interests of the operator and protection of life, health and property of persons moving in the monitored area. We respect your right to privacy and do not monitor with cameras the zones where you expect privacy - these are mainly spaces intended for rest and relaxation (kitchen, toilets, dressing rooms, common room - rest room, dining room tables). The records can be used to infer responsibility towards you in case of violation of internal regulations, if we have ensured your adjustment with them, and/or legal regulations related to threats or damage to property, life, health, safety, or financial interests. Processing is a legitimate interest of the operator or a third party.

Legal disputes/proceedings - we can process your personal data if we are involved in legal proceedings with you, based on a legal obligation and/or within the legitimate interest of the operator or a third party to prove, exercise or defend legal claims.

Accounting documents - we can process your personal data in connection with the performance of the contract with you to fulfil accounting and tax obligations in accordance with special legal regulations.

Reporting of anti-social activity - we can process your personal data if you have anonymously submitted a notification about possible anti-social activity, or if you are the subject of, or a participant in, an investigation into possible anti-social activity according to a special legal regulation.

Records of business partners - we can process your identification and contact data if you are our business partner (or a contact person designated by him), and we need this data to fulfil our business relations. The legal basis is a legitimate interest.

The data from some of the processing operations mentioned above refer to the relevant case and, to the extent necessary, can be used in the context of proving or defending our legal claims, or the legal claims of a third party (e.g. an authority that can interfere in criminal proceedings, an executor, a lawyer, etc.), in the context of judicial or extrajudicial proceedings, debt collection, etc. Some personal data obtained (e.g. confirmations, records, other documents to confirm the given fact, etc.) may be stored and used as "evidence" for the purposes of auditing, control activities by third parties, as part of the verification of the fulfillment of the operator's obligations in terms of legislative regulations, requirements, or other requirements (contractual, sectoral, etc.). Some obtained data may be used for internal statistical purposes of the operator, and improvement of processes and services, but to the necessary extent and according to the possibilities of using security elements of anonymization, pseudonymization, and encryption.

Additional general information

We process your personal data as part of the above-mentioned processing activities in accordance with the principles of personal data processing in such a way that we process your personal data to the extent necessary to achieve the specified legal purpose and store them for the necessary period in accordance with current legal regulations (especially the Archives Act and registries). Individual erasure deadlines are listed in the "Details of processing activities" section of this information. The stated times may be extended in rare cases, especially in the context of proving, exercising or defending legal claims.

We obtain your personal data primarily from you as the data subject (or from your legal representative), otherwise, if we obtain it from other sources, we transparently inform you of this fact, and we make sure that this data is obtained legally (for example, with your consent) and are correct and up-to-date. In case of any change in your personal data, we ask you to report this change.

Access to your personal data is given to our authorized persons who are properly trained on the rules and responsibilities for processing your personal data and are committed to maintaining the confidentiality of your personal data with which they come into contact.

Access to your personal data may also be given to external recipients and other parties who are permitted or required to do so by a special legal regulation or are ordered to exercise public authority. They are mainly organizations and institutions (including state administration authorities and public authorities for the exercise of control and supervision), but it can also be contractual partners who have the status of an independent operator in the sense of special regulation, or other persons/entities regulated by legal regulation. Furthermore, we may share your personal data with intermediaries whom we have contractually entrusted with the processing of your personal data and who have undertaken to accept adequate guarantees of maintaining the protection of the processed personal data. If you have given us voluntary consent or given us the order to provide data, your personal data may also be provided to other recipients. Likewise, your personal data may be shared with contractual partners for the performance of the contract between you and the operator. A specific list of recipients for each processing activity is provided in the "Details of processing activities" section of this information.

Through this information, we inform you of any transfer of personal data to third countries or international organizations. In the case of such a transfer, this fact is stated in the "details of processing activities" section of this information, together with the guarantees of such a transfer, which can mainly be (i) the decision of the Commission that the country or international organization provides adequate guarantees, (ii) signed standard contractual clauses between importer and exporter of data, (iii) adopted binding internal rules, (iv) or any of the exceptions for special situations apply (for example, your express consent) and so on.

These and other specific information on the processing of your personal data are listed separately for each processing activity in the "Details of processing activities" section of this information.

Your rights

As a data subject about whom we process personal data, you have rights in connection with the processing of personal data in accordance with the GDPR and the Act on Personal Data Protection. Below is an overview of them. If you decide to use some of your rights, you can use our application form in the attachment, which you send to the contact listed at the beginning of this information. If you are not sure of your right, or if you need help filling out the application, you can contact our external responsible person - the contact is available at the beginning of this information.

Access rights

You can request information about how we process your personal data, including information about:

- for what purpose do we process your personal data,
- what categories of personal data do we process,
- with whom we share your personal data,
- how long do we keep your personal data or what are the criteria for determining this time,
- what rights do you have
- where did we obtain your personal data from (if we did not obtain it directly from you),
- whether the processing includes automated decision-making (so-called profiling),
- whether your personal data has been transferred to a country that is outside the European Union, or outside the European Economic Area, or to an international organization, and if so, how we ensure the protection of your personal data.

All the above information is available in this information. In case of your request, we will provide you with a copy of the personal data that we process about you. We may charge a reasonable administrative fee for any additional copies you request. The right to obtain a copy must not have unfavourable consequences on the rights and freedoms of others. The operator will provide you with information about the option, the procedure used, possible costs, and other detailed information about providing a copy after receiving your request. If you submitted a request by electronic means, the information will be provided to you in a commonly used electronic form, unless you request another method.

Note: You can easily exercise the right of access by filling out the application - article "D" according to Annex No. 1 of this information.

Data transfer rights

You have the right to receive your personal data, which you have provided us for processing based on consent or to fulfil a contract, in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format. You also have the right to request the transfer of this information to another operator.

Note: You can easily exercise the right to transfer data by filling out the application - article "E" according to Annex No. 1 of this information

Correction rights

It is important that we have correct and complete information about you to avoid errors, unpleasant situations, and unwanted effects. You not only have the right to immediate correction of incorrect or incomplete personal data that we process about you, but at the same time, we also ask you to notify us immediately of any change or addition to personal data, especially if you have changed your identification/contact data, payment data they moved, etc.

Note: You can easily exercise the right to correct (or supplement) data by completing the application - articles "A or B" according to Annex No. 1 of this information.

Erasure rights (right to be "forgotten")

You have the right to request the deletion of personal data concerning you. We will comply with such a request without delay if any of the following reasons are met:

- personal data are no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were obtained or otherwise processed, or
- you revoke the consent based on which the processing is carried out and there is no other legal basis for the processing, or
- you object to processing and there are no valid reasons for the processing, or you object to processing for the purpose of direct marketing (including profiling), or

- personal data was processed illegally, or
- personal data must be deleted to comply with a legal obligation under Union law or the law of a Member State to which the controller is subject, or
- personal data were obtained in connection with the offer of information company services.

For example, you can ask us to delete it because we process your personal data in an unlawful way, for example, if we process your personal data for longer than necessary or without reason.

However, in some cases we will not be able to comply with your request, e.g. if the processing of personal data is obligatory to exercise the right to freedom of expression and information, to fulfil a legal obligation that requires processing under Union law or the law of a Member State to which the operator is subject, or to perform a task carried out in the public interest, for reasons of public interest in the field of public health, to archive in the public interest, for proving, exercising or defending legal claims.

Note: You can easily exercise the right to delete data by completing the application - article "C" according to Annex No. 1 of this information.

Right to restriction of processing

You have the right to restrict us from processing your personal data in one of the following cases:

- you challenge the accuracy of personal data during the period allowing us to verify the accuracy of personal data, or
- the processing is illegal and you, as the data subject, object to the deletion of personal data and request instead the restriction of their use, or
- we, as the operator, no longer need your personal data for processing purposes, but you, as the data subject, need them to prove, exercise or defend legal claims, or
- you object to the processing, until verification whether the legitimate reasons on our side as the operator outweigh the legitimate reasons of you as the person concerned.

If the processing has been limited according to the above-mentioned reasons, we may process such personal data (except storage) only with your consent or to demonstrate, exercise or defend legal claims, or to protect the rights of another person or legal entity, or for reasons of important public interest of the Union or a member state.

We will inform you before the restriction of processing at the operator is lifted.

Simultaneously, we want to assure you that if you exercise your right to correction, deletion, or restriction of processing of personal data through a request, we will immediately notify each recipient to whom we have provided personal data of this fact (correction, deletion, or restriction of processing), unless it proves impossible or requires an unreasonable effort.

Note: You can simply exercise the right to restrict data processing by completing the application - article "F" according to Annex No. 1 of this information.

The right to object to processing

If you believe that we do not have the right to process your personal data, you can object to our processing. These are situations where the processing is carried out based on a legitimate interest that we pursue as an operator or a task carried out in the public interest, including objection to profiling. In such cases, we can only continue processing if we can demonstrate legitimate reasons that outweigh your interests, rights, and freedoms. However, we may always process your personal data if it is necessary to determine, exercise or defend legal claims. If we process your personal data for the purposes of direct marketing, you have the right to object at any time to the processing of your personal data for the purposes of such marketing.

Note: You can easily exercise the right to object to data processing by completing the application - article "G" according to Annex No. 1 of this information.

The right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling.

In case of profiling performance, we will inform you in detail about these actions within the framework of specific processing activities. At the same time, we want to assure you that if we state that such processing is not carried out, it means that your personal data is not and will not be used to evaluate or predict your personal aspects related to performance at work, property conditions, health, personal preferences, interests, reliability, behaviour, position or movement.

If we carry out such processing, you have the right to ask us not to be part of the profiling. However, in some cases we will not be able to comply with your request, e.g. if the decision is necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract between the person concerned and the operator, or if the decision is permitted by Union law or the law of a Member State and which also establishes appropriate measures guaranteeing the protection of the rights and freedoms and legitimate interests of the person concerned, or if the decision is based with the express consent of the person concerned.

Note: You can easily exercise this right by filling out the application - article "H" according to Annex No. 1 of this information.

The right to withdraw consent to the processing of personal data

If you have given us your consent to process personal data in the past, you have the right to withdraw this voluntary consent at any time. We will respect your decision and ensure that your personal data is no longer processed for this purpose. At the same time, however, the withdrawal of consent does not affect the legality of the processing of personal data based on consent prior to its withdrawal (in practice, this may mean that if your data has been published in accordance with the consent granted, e.g. in distributed promotional materials, the disposal of these sent materials, as the consent was valid at the time of distribution).

If you give us your consent to electronic technical means, you have the right to revoke these means. Or you can simply write to us at the contact given at the beginning of this information that you no longer wish us to process your data and agree to withdraw.

The right to file a complaint with a supervisory authority

In case you are not satisfied with our answer, or you believe that we have violated your rights, or we are processing your personal data unfairly, illegally, etc. you could file a complaint - a proposal to initiate proceedings to the supervisory authority, which is the Personal Data Protection Office of the Slovak Republic. More detailed information about the procedure for submitting complaints is available at www.dataprotection.gov.sk.

Safety in the processing of your personal data

We would like to show you that we take the security of your personal data and the protection of your privacy seriously, so in this section of information we provide you with basic information about our practices, on how we secure your personal data.

We ensure the safety of information, including personal data, by selecting appropriate technical and organizational measures based on international standards for information security (especially ISO/IEC 27001:2013, ISO/IEC 27002:2013).

We secure the premises where we process your personal data with an adequate level of protection through mechanical barriers, technical security measures and organizational measures.

When processing and maintaining the security of personal data, we follow a set of regularly updated policies and procedures, with clearly defined and assigned competencies.

We have documented all processes related to the processing of your personal data and regularly update them. Each new process is properly assessed and approved.

When processing personal data, we consider the risk you face in case of loss of confidentiality, availability, or integrity, and processing operations with a higher risk are treated with numerous measures to guarantee higher protection.

We periodically carry out control/audit activities aimed at compliance with the established rules and assessment of compliance with the requirements of personal data protection and security, and in case of detected deficiencies, we work diligently to eliminate them.

We use the services of an independent (unbiased) external responsible authority who supervises the correct, legal and safe processing of personal data with us.

Authorized authorities who have access to your personal data as part of their job position/function are bound by confidentiality in relation to personal data, are properly trained before the first processing and then, as necessary, retrained on the requirements and responsibilities when processing personal data.

We only use the services of verified suppliers-intermediaries who have contractually agreed to take adequate security measures when processing your personal data.

Authorized authorities' access to your personal data is governed by the "need to know" and "need to use" rules.

We have an established security incident/personal data breach management system, and we ensure continuity of activities.

We maintain an up-to-date register of primary and supporting assets in connection with the processing of personal data, which is reflected in adequate security measures, including rules for secure erasure/disposal, backup, encryption, protection against malicious code, elements of adequate authentication, pseudonymization, or anonymization, rules for the use of assets, including their transmission and many others.
